"Scenes From AWCI Convention Exposition in San Antonio, Texas"

"... the convention started with committee meetings...

"... and proceeded to jampacked general sessions...

"... then exhibitors received a preliminary briefing...

"... before the exhibition hall got underway...

"... with plenty of time to renew friendships and talk..."
Here are some early photographs of the AWCI Annual Convention and Exposition held last month in San Antonio, Texas. The convention—the largest such exposition in the history of the wall and ceiling industry—set all kinds of records. The complete coverage of the convention in both pictures and stories will appear in the May edition of Construction Dimensions Magazine.
