Each year, AWCI makes available to its exhibitors and other suppliers certain convention activities for sponsorship. Sponsors at the AWCI convention are one of the reasons the AWCI show is always such a great success. Without the assistance of these participating suppliers, registration fees would be much higher.

Convention participants are urged to express their appreciation to each of the sponsors listed below—as well as those who “came on board” after this issue of the magazine went to press. A final updated listing of sponsors will be printed in the convention program.

For the past 10 years, every available sponsorship has been sold out! Our sponsors deserve the thanks of the entire industry for their dedication and service.

Sponsors for the 74th convention include the following (list complete as of February 5, 1991):

- Activities Center sponsored by United States Gypsum Company*
- Advance Registration Books sponsored by Dietrich Industries*
- Awards Breakfast sponsored by Dryvit Systems*

Grace* has also agreed to sponsor a convention function, but the final details of their sponsorship had not been determined by press time. More information on these sponsorships will be available at the convention.

“Second Mile Club”
Exhibitors who agree to co-sponsor an event or activity automatically become members of the AWCI “Second Mile Club,” to be recognized throughout the convention for “going the second mile” to help AWCI’s convention continue to be the very best in the industry.

Sponsors and members of AWCI’s “Second Mile Club,” marked by asterisks in the list above, deserve our thanks and gratitude. “Second Mile Club” members include:
